Universidad de los Andes

What is International Business

Globalization, spurred by technological change and the advancement of communications, has fostered the internationalization of companies. Through the development of multinational conglomerates, sourcing raw-materials, outsourcing production, or increased interaction with foreign counterparts, an ever-expanding number of businesses operate in a globalized environment.

Where once geographical barriers existed, businesses are now challenged to overcome cultural and linguistic barriers. In our current and future world, a global business mindset becomes essential.

- > 4-year program: first Bachelor of Science in International Business program in Chile.
- > Bilingual: substantial part of courses taught in English.
- > Additional degree: complete one additional year coursework and obtain a Professional Business Management degree (Ingeniería Comercial).

- > Multicultural environment: share learning experiences with fellow students from other countries.
- > International career prospects: prepares students to pursue a career path in multinational companies or overseas.
- > Internationally recognized: the BSc in International Business is a degree recognized around the world. Graduates may continue studying an MBA or other master's degree in Chile or abroad.
- > 100% face-to-face classes.
- > Exchange program with well-know universities: Bristol (UK), Northeastern (USA), WU Viena (Austria) and Macquarie (Australia).

Why study International Business at Universidad de los Andes?

The International Business program of Universidad de los Andes allows students to gain an international perspective. By sharing learning experiences with students from diverse cultural and national backgrounds, and spending a mandatory semester studying abroad in one of our partner universities, students acquire the knowledge and develop the necessary skills to thrive in a global environment.

Career prospects

After completing a carefully designed course curriculum with a strong business ethic foundation, students acquire the skills and knowledge to work in multinational companies or abroad, across different cultures and business practices. Graduates can pursue careers in areas such as International Finance, Marketing, Human Resources Management and Global Strategy, human resources management and global strategy.
